TRYON, N. C. THURSDAY, JUNE 11TH, 1953

Weather Wednesday: High 97, low 71, rain .05, Rel. Hum. 81. Weatherman Creasman said the thermometer reading dropped the fastest he had ever seen it in Tryon Wednesday when it fell 26 degrees, from 97 to 71 in about 20 minutes. The storm that passed over Tryon without doing any damage, uprooted trees and did thousands of dollars worth of damage in the mountains above us and went on to Woodruff in Spartanburg County, S. C., and Greer, S. C., and did more damage with 65 miles per hour wind, rain and hail, disrupting electric and telephone service. Woodruff was without outside communications. W. L. Roach of Tryon was at Woodruff around 6 o'clock when the storm struck. He was in his truck headed home and the wind was picking up his truck and moving it about. He got out until the storm blew over. The tornado in Massachusetts left 86 dead, 800 injured and 2,500 homeless. Federal government is to help there and in Ohio and Michigan . . . Austria and Russia have resumed diplomatic relations with exchange of ambassadors . . . Tryon Coach David Prince has gone to Chapel Hill for summer study at the University of North Carolina.
