

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest DAILY Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 26—No. 125 TRYON, N. C. FRIDAY, JULY 24TH, 1953

CURB REPORTER

Weather Thursday: high 91, low 71. Rel. Hum. 51 . . . Willis Johnson is the new chief of police for Saluda and Cawthray Metcalf is the night policeman. They were elected at a recent meeting of the Saluda council and Mayor John T. Coates . . . Friday's Spartanburg Herald has a picture of a group of visiting doctors and seminar leaders taken at recess time in Saluda. State Editor Jim Oliphant of the Herald has a half column story giving a resume of the activities of the seminar which is being attended by leading pediatricians from many sections of the nation . . . All highway patrolmen in this area were busy Thursday looking for a man who had escaped from a mental institution in Raleigh. The man was armed and driving a stolen automobile. He threatened to kill his parents. He was finally caught near Bostic in Rutherford County and put in jail for safe keeping . . . Duplicate Bridge Tournament tonight at Oak Hall hotel at 7:45. Public invited . . . Ground was broken in Spartanburg Thursday for the General Baking Company's new plant to cost over a million and half dollars . . . Doctors at Saluda say many polio patients can be treated at home, according to Dr. Randolph Batson of Vanderbilt University . . . A tragedy for little Billy Frankenfield happened this morning. His parakeet flew away. He hopes anyone seeing it will call Mrs. Michael at 241. She will keep it for him until he and his mother and sister, Carol, return from Bunn Level, N. C., where they will stay for two weeks while Lieut. Frankenfield is attending the Reserve Officers School at Fort Bragg.

Chas. West National Veep

Charles C. West of Tryon was elected to the board of directors and vice president of the Outdoor Writers Association of America on Wednesday at Missoula, Montana, where he and Mrs. West and their daughter, Mary Kathleen, are attending the convention and making a tour of the west. They report a wonderful time. Mrs. David Wenstrand and daughter, Sally, met them in Milwaukee and will be with them on the return trip home. Miss West bid in a Thompson fishing boat at the bingo auction.

MISSING IN ACTION

Mrs. Ethel Robbins of Landrum R-1 has received news from the War Department that her son, Pvt. Albert R. Robbins has been reported missing in action in Korea.

UNSUNG HEROINES

There's always some one behind the scenes who make things "go" for the people out front, and the Girl Scout camp is no exception to that rule. Who is it that leaves her breakfast dishes in the sink as she dashes off at 8:15 to collect up a car load of eager Brownies or Scouts who are waiting for her at Ballenger's Store? And it's the same faithful women who drop everything in the middle of the afternoon and are ready for the same eager, if somewhat tired girls at th Lake Lanier Camp at 4 o'clock and see that they are returned to Tryon or Lynn. For five days a week for two consecutive weeks, the Transportation Committee has carried on without

Continued on Back Page