Dairy Experts And Exhibits
At Breeders Field Day

Polk Cooperative Breeding Association, Inc., and friends will have an opportunity to hear some of the leading dairy specialists in the country at the American Breeders Service Field Day at their Asheville, stud farm on Tuesday, August 18.

The day's program will start at 10:30 a. m. with a demonstration of semen collection, processing and packaging by the stud staff. Exhibit tents will be open for inspection of displays on the latest developments in artificial breeding, including frozen semen. Lunch will be served at noon and immediately following, Rockefeller Prentice, head of American Breeders Service will welcome visitors and introduce the main speakers of the day.

Polk Cooperative Breeding Association, Inc., extends the invitation of the American Breeders Service to all customers, dairymen and friends to attend this first Field Day on August 18 at Asheville, where there will be some of the best speakers in the country, artificial breeding demonstrations and exhibit tents full of interesting and educational dairy displays.
