... Russia says it has tested the hydrogen bomb ... Iran's prime minister, Mossadegh kicked out of office and the ruler or king called Shah, has been called back after a few days of exile. . . Heavy rains in upper South Carolina has brought relief to farms and water supplies . . . Parts of Polk County also received good rains, Tryon not enough. . . If you plan to protest the condemnation of lands in Polk County by the Wildlife Resources Commission send your protest to the N. C. UTILITIES Commission and not the Wildlife Commission as stated in Wednesday's Bulletin. Protest should be filed by Aug. 21. A hearing will be given on Aug. 26 at 3 p. m. at the Hearing Room in the City of Raleigh. Mary Laurens Richardson is chief clerk of the Utilities Commission . . . Sheriff Loyd Panther thinks he will win in the long run; and he may legally and technically. If he is innocent every law abiding citizen should support him, respect him and admire him for his determined fight to hold the office with which the people entrusted him. If he is guilty he has already lost something more precious than the office he holds. We are inclined to look up to our war heroes and to honor them whenever possible. We feel they should be a little better than the average citizen for they are trained in the sacredness of duty and the dignity of their job. Their fine
