Weather Tuesday: high 90, low 49 . . . Mrs. Pandit of India, sister of Prime Minister Nehru, elected president of United Nations General Assembly. Red China denied place in United Nations by vote of 44-10 . . . Adlai Stevenson at Democratic meet in Chicago calls for world-wide disarmament . . . Business men worried about stock market slipping. Some think a recession on the way. Now is the time for folks to sell if they have anything to sell. Advertisements in the Bulletin make selling cheaper. No other advertising reaches so many people for so little money. Others may have larger circulations, but they cost more, and not as many people read those ads as read the ones in the Bulletin. If you don't sell it through the Bulletin it is because it is not needed, is too high, doesn't fit or for some other reason doesn't sell. They read the ads in the Bulletin . . . Joe Ritchey of Columbus has been named Polk County Forest Ranger, according to an announcement by District Ranger B. H. Corpening. Ranger Ritchey's telephone number is 2153 until 9 p. m. and 2371 at night. Anyone detecting forest fires in the county are urged to notify him at once. . .

Tryon School Trustees Favor Bond Election

The Board of Trustees of the Tryon City Schools met in special session, on Sept. 2, to consider in detail the proposed bond issue for school building construction and improvement of mental institutions and, also, the question of a central high school for all of Polk County. All members of the board were present. After full and lengthy discussion of these matters, the school board passed official resolutions which set forth the board's position regarding both these questions.

The members of the school board agreed that conditions are such, throughout the State of North Carolina, that both the $50,000,000 proposed for school building construction and the $22,000,000 proposed for mental institutions are urgently needed. They felt, further, that the State bond issue was the best approach to be made to this problem at this time. A motion was offered that the Tryon school board go on record as unanimously favoring the issuance of both the school building construction bonds and bonds for mental institutions. All members of the board favored this action.

In regard to the question of a central high school for Polk County, the members of the board agreed that many problems would need to be worked out if such a consolidated school is to be. However, it was felt that such a school is needed in this county for many reasons. Some of these: (1) to avoid wasteful and poor duplication of such specialized facilities as libraries, science laboratories, home economics departments, vocational agriculture departments,
