

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper.

Seth M. Vining, Editor

Vol. 26—No. 190

TRYON, N. C. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1953

Weather Thursday: High 73, low 48, Rel. Hum. 66 . . . The U. S. to build atomic power plant to build peace time energy. Expenses of U. S. Government so high that there will be little tax reduction for sometime . . . The Bulletin referred to the "marble" bench in the railway park Thursday. Wayne Creasman says it aint so. It's concrete. We stand corrected. Of course they are about the same thing chemically; only one is made by God and the other by man. The chemist would probably find CaCO₃, calcium carbonate, in both. Or a fellow could blow his breath, (carbon dioxide) in a bottle of lime water, mix it up thoroughly enough and make his own marble . . . Duplicate bridge tonight at Oak Hall at 7:45 . . . A few tickets for the annual banquet meeting of the Tryon Chamber of Commerce are still available at $2. Price includes banquet, entertainment and the fellowship of other citizens who are striving to make this community a better place in which to live or to see that over progressive people don't spoil what we already have. The pooling of our resources, a sounding out of community thinking by an interchange of thought on community ideals are things that keep Tryon different and we think better

Continued on Back Page

DURHAM INFANT PASSES

Mary Margaret, two day old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pickens Durham passed away Thursday morning at Mary Black Hospital in Spartanburg, S. C. Graveside services will be held at Tryon Cemetery Friday morning at 10:30, with the Rev. Henry O. Hearn, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiating.

Besides her parents the baby is survived by one sister, Sharon; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frail Durham of Tryon and maternal grandmother, Mrs. C. C. Ashley of Columbus.

McFarland Funeral Home of Tryon in charge of arrangements.

Fire Victims Need Help

Floyd Evans, superintendent of public welfare for Polk County reports that Mrs. Fred Atkins' house burned Thursday and destroyed all contents. He states the family needs clothing for a mother, one six year old son and a two year old daughter. Anyone with contributions of clothing or other assistance may notify the Welfare Department at Columbus, phone No. 2164.

Charlotte Observer reports that Dr. Francis Harrison of Coopers-town, N. Y., was elected president of the Constantinians to succeed Dr. Joseph F. Borg of St. Paul, Minn., at their 8th annual meeting in Asheville Wednesday. The Constantians include only doctors who served in the Mediterranean Theatre during World War II. Dr. and Mrs. Borg are making their headquarters in Tryon while attending the convention.

Tonight at 8 the Tryon Tigers play District Three at Cowpens.