Memorials for St. Luke's To Honor Friends or Family

The Trustees of St. Luke's Hospital recently adopted the following resolution: "Contributions to the hospital of $1,000 or more shall entitle the contributors to the privilege of designating a room as a memorial gift."

Already eight of the 13 available rooms have been thus designated. Several friends of the hospital have expressed interest in other possible memorials. There are many which might be suggested.

For instance, a urological X-ray table, much needed for diagnosis and treatment, would cost about $1600; a heated resuscitator for infants would cost about $860; furnishings for the reception room, designed to make it more dignified and attractive to visitors, would cost about $450; bedside cabinets would cost about $50 each; bassinets for the nursery would cost about $15 each. These are only a few of the many possibilities which might be selected.

The trustees invite any one who may be interested in making a Memorial Gift to confer with L. E. Sayre, the treasurer, or M. C. Holthouser, the administrator, who will be glad to suggest many more items than those mentioned. Memorial projects will, of course, be allocated in the order in which applications are made.—Hospital Reporter.
