TRYON, N. C. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1953

Weather Thursday: High 66, low 41, rain .07; Rel. Hum. 74 . . . World news about the same with U.N.-Russian conversation taking the headlines followed by this man's opinion and that one's about the prospect of war, peace, atomic bomb, government inefficiency and investigations. The Italians and Yugoslavs still squabbling . . . Next holiday coming up for Tryon and most of the nation is next Wednesday, Nov. 11, Armistice Day, stores, banks, post offices and many other business and service institutions will be closed all day . . . Make your plans accordingly . . . Miss Elizabeth White, noted for her Southern Prints, who bought the Todd Russell house, has returned to her winter home at Sumter, S. C., after a brief stay in Tryon. Her prints are on sale here at The Hearthside . . . When the annual hunter trials of the Waterloo Hunt Club was held last month at Jackson, Mich., Arthur Farwell of Tryon was the judge, and he did a splendid job, according to reports reaching Tryon. Herbert Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. John Donald have also been judges of Waterloo in the past. Gerald Helder of Holland, Mich., was equitation judge this year. Among the exhibitors familiar to Tryon horse lovers were P. T. Cheff, Max Ben-
