Vol. 26—No. 114 TRYON, N. C. THURSDAY, NOV. 26TH, 1953

As this is written before the weather report comes in the report for Wednesday will be combined with the next report. . . The weather is delightful, clear and brisk after a shower Tuesday night. Most of us enter a day of Thanksgiving with grateful hearts—grateful for freedom, home, friends and a thousand blessings. To those who believe in God it has even greater significance. He speaks to them everywhere, in the rustling grass they hear Him pass. This is their Father's world. On the program for the day is the Union Thanksgiving service at the Congregational Church at 10; Christian Science service at 11; Tryon Hounds meet at 3:15 at Chiquapin Farm; Il Trovatore grand opera in Spartanburg at the Auditorium at 8 p. m. Remember to give the Bulletin the names of your guests for Friday's paper. Oak Hall will not have a steak supper this Thursday on account of the big Thanksgiving dinner at noon. All business houses in Tryon are closed for Thanksgiving. Tryon Schools have the rest of the week off for the holidays. . . . The Tryon Rotary Club will meet Friday at 1 p. m. with Dr. Phil Elliott, president of Gardner-Webb College as speaker. . . . The Tryon Men's

Optimist Bowl Tickets

The annual high school Optimist Bowl game will be played at Memorial Stadium in Asheville on Dec. 4, at 3 o'clock. Tryon will be represented by Raleigh Parker, co-captain and star halfback of the Tryon High Tigers.

Tickets for the game are on sale here by Ronnie Ross, Lila Hancock, Allan Pruette, Ann Moon, and Kite Biedler. Tickets will also be available at the gate on the day of the game.

Lions See South Carolina

J. S. Gash, Vocational Agricultural teacher at Mill Spring High School showed a film on South Carolina Tuesday night at the Lions Club meeting.

It was announced that 95% of the club members had signed up to give blood at the Blood Bank to be held on Dec. 3.

Projects completed during the past year by the Lions Club include the broom sale, circus, calendars and seals. The money raised by these projects is being used for the visually handicapped people of Polk County. It was announced that five pair of glasses had been purchased by the club this month.

Oliver Taylor was in charge of the program.

The Tryon Episcopal Sunday school will have a Kim Banks program Sunday. This is the fall offering from members of the Church School for the support of the Church's Korean war orphan. It costs $120 a year for his maintenance. Part of the cost is assumed by the Woman's Auxiliary and part by the Church School.
