

THE EAGLE MAN

Now that the Thanksgiving season is here, it is very appropriate that the noted eagle man, Charles L. Broley, is to tell us in Tryon, about our National Bird—the great American bald eagle—which he is actively trying to save from extinction.

He has an exciting tale of his experiences in banding these eagles and his extraordinary motion pictures in color, taken at close range, will be most enjoyable to see. Mr. Broley is a very entertaining speaker. He has met with enthusiastic audiences wherever he has been. He will be at the Congregational Church House this Saturday night at 8. Donations: $1 for adults; 50c for children. Contact any member of the Tryon Bird Club, or obtain tickets at Missildine's.—S. J., Club Reporter.

Young man desires position as bookkeeper or other office work in or near Tryon. 2 years experience in accounting. James Power, Tel. 48-J, Tryon.—Adv. 20, 23, 25p

WANTED TO BUY: Old China, glassware, all kinds of bric-a-brac and old furniture. Write Edgewood Antiques, Route 3, Spartanburg, S. C. or call Spartanburg 21152. —Advertisement ths., fri. tf.

Southwick SUPERFLEX

*No excess padding or canvas stiffen-
ing. Easy lines.*

PLENTY DIFFERENT!

Yes . . . there's plenty that sets the Southwick Superflex apart from commonplace clothes. The casual distinction of its easy lines. Its gentlemanly natural shoulders. The complete freedom of its soft construction. Exclusive with . . . Greenewald's.

$65 and 69.50

Greenewald's

SPARTANBURG, S. C.