

TOYLAND AT KIWANIS

The Tryon Kiwanis Club held their Equal Christmas program Tuesday at Oak Hall hotel. Christmas carols were sung and then members exchanged toys which were later turned over for distribution to underprivileged children.

A committee composed of J. Lee Lavender, Manuel Holthouser and Tommy Patrick reported on the number of Christmas baskets that will be delivered before Christmas.

The Rev. Joe Wagner was inducted into the club by Carroll P. Rogers.

Miss Aline Poole, student at Swarthmore College, Pa., is home for the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Thomas S. Poole.

According to an advertisement in today's Bulletin, there will not be an evening meal served at Oak Hall hotel on Christmas Day. The Christmas dinner will be served from 12:30 to 2:30.

May THE STAR shine
Bright for You

There is something magical about Christmas. It is a time of year when men express good will, feel kindly toward each other, and find joy in giving. These are the good days, the glad days, of the year. May they be symbolical of the days in store for you and yours throughout the year.
