Know Dr. Bedell?

A Seton Hall University professor is writing a Profile History of the Classmates of Dr. Leila G. Bedell at Boston University. She died in Tryon March 29, 1914.

The inquiry from William Barlow, 14 Butler St., Brooklyn, N. Y. 11231 was addressed to the Polk County Historical Association. Through courtesy of Walter Gray, librarian of the Polk County Public Library the 1914 April issues of the Polk County News were scanned on the microfilm machine.

The first issue in April had a news-editorial by Editor Geo. R. Cobb stating that Dr. Leila Gertrude Bedell died at her home in Tryon March 29 from pneumonia. She was 76. Came here some years ago from Chicago where she practiced medicine for many years and was president of the Chicago Woman's club....She was esteemed by her profession.

The Episcopal funeral service was said at her late home and her remains taken to Fishkill, N. Y. for interment."

Checking with Mrs. Sidney H. Morgan, administrator of Lanier Library and the Diamond Jubilee history of the Lanier Library and Club one finds that Dr. Bedell appeared on the program for the first time Jan. 14, 1904. She must have come here in 1903 and lived here for about 11 years. She came here to rest and was so charmed with the people, climate and scenery that she made it her home; and had a little leaflet printed which she mailed to friends and gave them away for others to mail. She appeared as speaker on Lanier programs on various subjects many times; was chairman of the committee to make improvements in the community; served as president in 1910; presided over luncheon given here in honor of the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, of the U. S. Mrs. Philip Moore at which time the president of the North Carolina Federation was Mrs. Reilly present.

On April 2, 1914 a special meeting and memorial exercises in memory of the former president Dr. Leila G. Bedell was held at which time "Mrs. E. G. Holden presented a framed photograph of Dr. Bedell to the Library and gave a short biography telling many interesting incidents of a full and beautiful life." — PCH Reporter
