

news newspapers, magazines and supplements. About 26 percent are on tear-off pads in grocery stores, 16 percent are in or on the food package and the rest are a combination of these methods.

According to the specialists, one of the pitfalls of refund offers is their invitation to buy products on impulse. The Nielsen Clearing House survey showed that about 36 percent of those people who had sent in for refunds were influenced by refund offers to buy products they did not normally use or need.

However, they add, for the consumer who shops wisely and is looking for new ways to ease the bite of inflation, manufacturer's refunds can bring in good monetary rewards.
