Opening Day Tactics At Trout Unlimited

"Open Day and Early Season Tactics" will be the program for the 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 19 meeting of Trout Unlimited in the Community Room of First Federal Savings & Loan, corner of 5th Avenue and Church Street, Hendersonville.

The speaker, John Young, is an accomplished trout fisherman that knows seasonal moods of area trout waters. He knows his stream insects and how to fish the lures and flies that most effectively take early season trout. He is past president of the Asheville chapter of Trout Unlimited, and is Chairman of the Fisheries Management Committee of T. U. North Carolina State Council. He is the proprietor of the Sportsman's Pro Shop in Candler.

For the convenience of Tryon people, riders pools will be formed near the Tryon movie theatre for departure at 6:45; and from Lynn post office area for 6:50 departure. All interested in this timely program are invited.

RED CROSS REPORTS TO GOVERNOR HUNT

To underscore the importance of meeting the local 1980 Red Cross goal of $14,300, the report of Carolina's division of Red Cross' annual accounting to Governor Hunt is pertinent.

36,915 North Carolinians served 7,678,320 hours without cost to ease the suffering of their neighbors.

1979 was open-season for hurricanes, floods, tornadoes. 1225 persons were sheltered and fed in four downstate counties. 25 Carolina volunteers and staff were pre-positioned in the Myrtle Beach-Charleston coastline to insure immediate help. 50 volunteers and staff helped disaster victims in Alabama, Mississippi and Florida.

276,944 pints of blood were donated. Red Cross Nursing and Health classes trained over 11,000 persons in home nursing, child-care.

Lifesaving skills of cardiopulmonary resuscitation were learned by 23,845 people in Red Cross classes.

87,879 students participated in Red Cross Youth Programs in 584 schools.

Red Cross acted as advocate for 2,723 North Carolina veterans and their families with VA.

This yearly report to the Governor also reflects Polk County's Red Cross operations. Most notable is the blood collection program for St. Luke's Hospital with a quota of 1100 pints.

Dedicated canvassers are now combing the streets and highways of the county. It's vital that the budgeted $14,300 annual appeal is met. Polk County has a reputation for responding to the call "Help Keep Red Cross Ready." — Reporter

Charlie Newman

Charlie B. Newman, 80, husband of Mrs. Harriet Barnwell Newman of Hwy. 176, Tryon, died Sunday in White Oak Terrace after a long illness.

A native of Polk County, he was a son of the late Dolphus and Angeline Newman. He was a retired farmer.

Also surviving: daughters, Mrs. Geneva Erwin of Waynesville, Mrs. James A. Beck of Balsam and Miss Lorie Newman and Mrs. Jessie Case of Tryon; sons, Clarence Newman of Marietta, S. C., Harold Newman of Rosman and Hoyt Newman of Tryon; 19 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held today (Tuesday) at 4 p.m. at McFarland Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Charles Dodson, Rev. John Webb and Rev. W. E. Wilson officiating. Burial will be in Polk Memorial Gardens.

The family is at the home of Mrs. Jessie Case on Hwy. 176 in Tryon.

Mrs. Mary Terrano Storrs, a student at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, was visiting her parents in Tryon recently and was so entrigued with the Architectural and Historical Survey of Tryon that she took her parents' copy back to Scotland to show it to her classmates.

APATHY

Sample words that flutter forth
 Bring a laugh or smile or frown.
 The stage is set, the truth has flown,

And as we sit each alone
 We frown and smile.
 And laugh at things we think worthwhile.

Each player is set
 and robed and yet
 The play has just begun.
 For each lie that is told
 be it new or old,
 Destructions path it seeks.
 The stage is old
 and players bold.
 And as they dance,
 it shimmers and it creeks
 And when it breaks
 Masks it takes.

The robes be torn away
 and each shall see to one another your lives were spent in apathy.
