

VERNON HORNE

for

County Commissioner

The sale of excess and non-productive school properties should be consummated, and the funds derived therefrom should be used to finance and continue vocational training programs. These programs are extremely essential for high school students who have no desire to further their education on the college level.

Proceed with a powerful public relations program within the county to further promote the excellent facilities offered by the St. Luke's Hospital Staff. Also a better relationship should be established between the hospital personnel and county employees.

Greater effort should be made to promote the Polk County Industrial Park. A concentrated advertising campaign should be formulated to publicize this excellent facility in order to attract additional industry into Polk County. This program is essential in order to improve job possibilities for young people in the county.

To increase continuity in county government all county business will be conducted in the county offices, and all commissioners meetings will take place in the usual meeting place, as a measure to conserve energy and establish a consistent pattern to follow.

All county owned vehicles will be used solely to conduct county business, and any and all use of county vehicles for personal transportation will be prohibited.

All county jobs that come under the supervision of the county commissioners office will be filled by citizens from within the county. No employees will be brought in from neighboring areas, and no job selections will be made on the basis of favoritism or friendship. Job placement will be conducted strictly on the basis of merit, ability, background, knowledge and experience.

Operating costs of county government can be kept to a minimum by constant supervision of all expenditures for county business, and with this continuing increase in home construction the budget for day to day operating costs can be maintained with no increase to the taxpayer.
