Local Red Cross Gains National Recognition

The "Last Hurrah for Great Oak Hall Tea Dance", last October, won first place in the "Special Events" category of the national Clara Barton Communications Contest, as announced from Washington, D. C.

The Red Cross benefit saluted the passing of an historic landmark, brought back "Scottie", daughter of famed author F. Scott Fitzgerald, and generated broad community interest in the objectives of Red Cross programs.

First use of the $1636 net proceeds was a $500 donation to the special "National Quota Disaster Campaign." Key people responsible for the dance success were: Marc Parsons, James Kirk, Eleanor Stetekluh, Richard Weiss and executive secretary, Shirley Arledge. Dozens of community-spirited individuals also helped stage the event. Additional honors garnered by
