Healthy, Well-Thy And Wise!

By the popular request of both participants and visitors, the Polk County Health Fair is being held again this year at the 4-H Youth Center, Columbus. Its festive booths will be on display all day Friday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

According to Bertha Blomfield-Brown, chairman of the Health Services Information Center, sponsor of the fair, this is a great opportunity to discover that many of your friends and neighbors are associated with a number of local organizations interested in your health, whether that health is preventative or healing. And that Healing can range from help with marital problems, or drug problems, to instruction on how to apply cardio-pulmonary resuscitation.

The Fair's slogan is "Come, Be Healthy, Well-Thy and Wise!"

To bring alive the vital story of blood, the Red Cross will exhibit a piece of equipment never before seen in Polk County where one can press buttons to ask a questions and lights will flash on the answers.

A "Wheel-of-Life" depicting how our existence stems from the good earth, will tell you that the better the earth, the better the food, and the better your general well-being.

And then others will show how to prepare that food and how to preserve it.

A graphic demonstration promises to show doubling Thomases right before their eyes how cigarette smoking can damage their bodies. And the 7th-Day Adventist Church will also provide the free opportunity to have blood pressure checked and blood sugar tested.

There will be an ambulance on view, and many other features.

Miss Blomfield-Brown stated that the HSIC is grateful to the County Commissioners for their support in making this Fair a reality.
