No official weather report but the weather Saturday and Sunday was hot. This is the kind of weather we always associate with the 4th of July.

Carolyn Gosnell, who skipped her $20,000 bond at last term of Superior court was arrested Friday in Gainesville, Ga. and is now in the Polk County jail under $250,000 bond. She is accused in the shotgun murder of her husband, James Delmar Gosnell of Landrum.

A series of tornadoes, accompanying heavy thunderstorms and high winds, swept across Maryland late Sunday afternoon, injuring at least 30 people.

Police estimated 100,000 people marched in San Francisco's annual Gay Freedom Day Parade on Sunday.

Sunny Alexander (Mrs. Wm.) sent the Bulletin a small bottle of volcanic ash. Mrs. Alexander now makes her home in Forest Grove, Oregon.

A study released by the Alliance of American Insurers shows that it would cost $25,458 in parts and labor to replace all parts on a totally wrecked 1980 U. S. compact car having an invoice cost to the dealer of $6,018.

The second annual 4th of July

John Claud In "George Washington Slept Here"

John Claud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Claud of Tryon, has the important role of the bratty nephew, Raymond, in this weeks production of the world famous comedy "George Washington Slept Here," playing July 1 through 5, at Flat Rock Playhouse, the State Theatre of North Carolina.

Mrs. Claud assures us that the role is not "type casting" and that 10-year-old son John is really a very nice young man. However, he does such an excellent acting job as a brat, which the role calls for, that he fools the audience.

Flat Rock state director, J. Rixon Hammond has directed John before, when he guest-directed "The Lion Who Wouldn't" at the Tryon Elementary School last winter, which marked John's stage debut. However, so far he is not too serious about a stage career, and much prefers to play baseball with the Little League team. He is now in sixth grade. The Claud family moved to Tryon from Charlotte two years ago.

"George Washington Slept Here" plays evenings at 8:30 Tuesday through Saturday, with the customary two matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, July 2 and 5 at 2:30. Call (704)693-0731 for reservations. Flat Rock Playhouse is located three miles south of Hendersonville, on U. S. 25.
