A severe thunderstorm with high winds lashed through this area Thursday afternoon. A number of large trees went over power and telephone lines, causing power outages in many areas. The Duke Power and Telephone crews were out during the night making repairs. Jerry Covil of Mid-Continent Telephone Co. stated that there were a number of isolated lines down, but the only major damage was done between McFarland Funeral Chapel and Harmon Field Road where a tree fell across a major cable.

A big tree went down at the Lanier Library and it fell across the power line. This outage, kept people in that area and the Gillette Woods area without power until about 2 a.m. Friday. We forgot how dependent we are on electricity until we are without it.

One of the American hostages, Richard Queen, 28, was released by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini Thursday because of illness.
