THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1980

Price 10c Per Cop!

Weather Tuesday: high 90, low 68, rain at 7 a.m. Wednesday was .67. That was a wonderful rain.

The Little League playoffs continue each afternoon at Harmon Field. It is a double elimination tournament and will continue until all but one team has lost two games. A similar tournament is being held at Cliffside which involves Tri-Community, Belmont, Cherryville and Tri-Community of Cleveland County. The two winners are scheduled to play Monday, July 28th at Harmon Field to begin a best of three series for the District One Championship. The winner gains a berth in the state Little League Tournament.

A number of old signs for streets in Tryon are being given away by the Polk County Historical Association. They are being given away Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, when the museum at the Tryon Depot is open.

Robroy Farquhar of the Flat Rock Playhouse, reports that this is the most successful season in the history of the playhouse. The Playhouse has been sold out every evening performance. The Playhouse has been air condi-

58 Pints Collected

The Red Cross bloodmobile visited the Bigelow Sanford Mill in Landrum last week and collected 58 pints of blood from 61 potential donors. Forty-six were repeat donors and 12 were first time donors.

This was the fourth visit to Bigelow Sanford of the bloodmobile from the Asheville Regional Blood Center under the auspices of the Polk County Red Cross.

Mrs. E. A. Komant is chairman of the blood donor program in the Landrum area. Nineteen volunteers participated in last week's visit.

The next industrial visit of the bloodmobile to Landrum will be Oct. 30. In the meantime, visits to Tryon will be made August 25 and Oct. 20.

Curb Market Entered Here

Red Whitesides Curb Market was entered sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning. The thief or thieves entered by the back door. They cut the screen and removed the bars according to Polk County Deputy Sheriff James Carter who was aided in the investigation by Chief Deputy Allen Rickman.

Items taken in the break-in included a .32 pistol, 2 new billfolds, 2 pair of boots and 2 cash drawers with pennies.

The investigation is still underway by the Sheriff's Department.

To The Editor:

I always enjoy my visits to Tryon, but this trip was special because of the Tryon Youth Center's production of "Bye, Bye Birdie". The enthusiasm and talent of the ensemble displayed in the singing (thanks to Pam McNeil) and acting was unsurpassed. The word I found most appropriate in describing this musical and its participants was "life" — and in these somewhat bleak times, that "life" was much appreciated.

Debbie Goode's contribution to the Tryon Youth (now as director) is, I hope, fully recognized after this exceptional production. To Debbie, and all the others involved, thank you for an evening of wonderfulness!!

Sincerely,
Susan Jackson
