

MEETING PLACE IN NEED OF EQUIPMENT FOR NEW TRANSPORTATION PROGRAM

Starting October 1, 1980, Polk County will be involved in a new transportation program. There will no longer be a County Taxi Program for Senior Citizens. The Meeting Place will be totally responsible for many of the services the Taxi Program provided for our Senior Citizens of Polk County.

The Meeting Place is in need of a vehicle (small automobile) in addition to our two vans to help run errands, grocery shopping, taking people to dentist and doctors, and other necessary trips. Vans use tremendous amounts of gas and with a car for errands, it would bring cost down tremendously.

If anyone would be interested in donating a car, (old or new) it would be greatly appreciated. A donation such as this is tax deductible. Please contact Fran Williams at The Meeting Place if anyone is interested. We will keep you up to date on the new Transportation Program as it progresses.

Meeting Place phone number (704) 859-6500.

Sincerely,
Fran Williams

Dr. W. A. West

William Armstrong West, 86, for forty years professor of chemistry at the American University of Beirut, died September 4 at his home in Kensington, Maryland. He was born in Beirut, Lebanon, in 1894, one of six children of the professor of astronomy at the then Syrian Protestant College. He graduated from Mercersburg Academy in 1912, Princeton University in 1916, and received his PhD. from Princeton in 1929. During the first world war Lt. West served in the U. S. Army, Coast Artillery Corps in Panama.

Professor West spent his entire teaching career at the American University of Beirut, retiring in 1959 as head of the chemistry department. At that time he was decorated by the Lebanese Government with the Order of the Cedar. Dr. West is particularly remembered for his explorations and mapping of the Dog River Caves in Lebanon, and for his landscaping for the beautiful American University of Beirut campus. Many of the trees and shrubs he transplanted as seedlings or raised from seeds. He was an avid hiker and botanist, and a special iris, "iris susiana f. westii" is named for him.

Dr. West was a member of the British Iris Society and the Appalachian Trail Conference. After his retirement to Tryon in 1960 he continued his hiking and mountain climbing during his many years here. He and Henry Hart were the two main founders of the Tryon Trail Trotters when his knowledge of the local plant material offered a continuous education for his fellow hikers. He and Henry Hart located many of the trails which the hickers still follow. His sons and daughter often visited Tryon and joined in the hikes.

Dr West was a member of the Tryon Congregational Church. His wife of over fifty years, the former Dorothy Allen, died in 1974. He is survived by his daughter, Elisabeth FitzHugh of Kensington, Md., by his sons, Allen, of Appleton, Wisconsin, and David of Blacksburg, Va.; his brother Francis of Pompano Beach, Florida; and two sisters, Anna Saunders of Toronto, and Alice Tompkins of Tunkhannock, Pa.; and 8 grandchildren.

50,000 Native Americans, North Carolina has the largest Indian population of any state west of the Mississippi. Jim Lowry of Lowry Chevrolet is Chairman of the North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs, which is coordinating Indian Heritage Week activities. We may think of Indians in terms of bows and arrows, but today there are Indian lawyers, doctors, educators, successful businessmen, etc.

The Roast Beef or Chicken Dinner is Thursday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at St. Luke's C.M.E. Church.

"Keep It To Scale"

The Home Section of the New York Times on Thursday, August 28, 1980, featured an article by Paula Dietz on "Women in Landscape Architecture." to quote from the article, "When she, Annette Hoyt Flanders completed the garden in 1939 for her fellow alumna, Elizabeth H. Webster, on the slope of a mountain in Tryon, North Carolina, she admonished her: "Remember, Betty, this is architecture; it must be kept to scale." Elizabeth H. Webster is the Historian of the Tryon Garden Club and has the distinction of being its oldest member. She was president of the Club 1946 to 1952.

It may be added that Miss Webster has kept her beautiful garden to scale through these many years since it was designed in 1939, and has always made visitors welcome to enjoy its unique quality.
