Weather Wednesday: high 69, low 38. Thursday was another perfect fall day.

Ronald Reagan said Tuesday that he would appoint a woman to the first vacancy on the U. S. Supreme Court as president; Pres. Carter claimed Reagan's Economic proposals would cost at least $140 billion in fiscal 1983.

Iran's planes bombed Baghdad Tuesday as Iraqi ground units drove toward Abadan.

Bill Crapo brought in a copy of the New York Daily News (Oct. 8th) which had a picture of Stanislas and Elizabeth Czetwertynski of Tryon as they were reunited in Seattle after becoming separated during their rescue from the Prinsendam. They took separate flights from Alaska to Seattle.

North Carolina and Swain County were told Tuesday by a federal appeals court that they have no taxing authority over Cherokee Indians living on the reservation. The appeals court said that since the land on which the Cherokees live is held in trust by the federal government there must be federal permission before a state can levy taxes.

Ms. Lilly Dobbyn has returned to Tryon from Wyoming where she spent this past summer working as ranch hand and cook on Green River Guest Ranch, about 75 miles south of Jacksons Hole, Wyoming. She said the work was hard but healthy and educational; the country beautiful, rugged and invigorating. Guests ("Dudes", they were called) spent their vacations there taking pack trips to fish in glacier lakes or hunt deer, elk and bear at elevations varying from 8,500 to 10,000 feet. She is glad to be home but plans to return to the wild and rugged west come spring 1981.

Fall Fair
