present a dramatized review of the book, "The Plantagenet Prelude," by Jean Plaidy. The program is sponsored by the Lanier Library Association and its Program Committee of Miss Katherine Kirby, Chairperson, Mrs. G. Freeman Brooks and Mrs. Harold White. Members of the Lanier Library Association are invited—no tickets will be issued or required for admission — simply come and enjoy.

In 1979 Mrs. Basler presented a dramatized book review for the Library membership. In reviewing the program The Tryon Daily Bulletin commented, "Mrs. Basler in effectively portraying selected excerpts from the book ("A Woman of Independent Means" by Elizabeth Forsythe Hailey) revealed a talent for bringing the printed page to life and adding emotional dimensions to a book. The result was that the audience had a greater appreciation of the writing than could be garnered by merely reading the words."

When we go to the polls in November
Let's not go like that nude in September
On that morn you'll recall
She wore nothing at all
Like some voters, she forgot to remember.
