

Blanket Sunday

Church Women United is observing "Blanket Sunday" November 9th. For many years, Church World Service has had a ministry of blanket-giving especially for the dispossessed in refugee camps, but also for people devastated by some natural or man-made disaster. When it begins to get cold, it seems natural to think of those who are exposed to the elements in the many refugee camps around the world and to want to share warmth and security with them.

Church World Service is able to purchase very good servicable blankets for the minimum cost of $4. each. In the comfort of our homes, it is hard to fathom the importance of this gift to a poverty-oppressed, often sick and malnourished child; to a disaster victim who has suddenly lost everything; to refugees whose cold, bleak nights link one meaningless day to another. The warmth, security, love and friendship betokened by these blanket gifts make a vital appearance in the lives of these poor recipients, enabling them to cope more courageously with their adverse circumstances and to hope that the future will be better.

Contributions may be made through your Church Women United representative in your church. — Reporter
