Commissioners Have Routine Meeting

The County Commissioners met 3 November 1980 at the County Courthouse. Dr. Gordon Pyle, Vice President of Isothermal Community College and in charge of the operation at the Jervey-Palmer Building, presented the Commissioners with a plan for expansion and improvement. He hopes to have a full freshman year given beginning next fall. Since the back parking lot fills up full, he would like to have lights put in the front parking lot and a stairway fixed so students can come in that way. He plans to have an electronic piano for 6 students, in which each student hears only his own music. He would like to move the snack bar into a larger room with chairs. Part of this will be done by carpentry students and would cost an estimated $542.15, and the rest done under contract with an estimated cost of $4569.10. The Commissioners did not have time to study everything and will take action later, but were receptive.

Al Guthrie, of Guthrie and McCoy, presented the audit and gave recommendations on financial and inventory procedures.

The N. C. Archives of History wants to help Polk County collect records. It is fairly certain that a grant of $3000 will be available to pay a professional historian to help volunteers in this project.

The N. C. Dept. of Human Resources sent a report of a recent inspection of the county jail. There should be a written medical plan posted at the jail; Gary Durham will be asked to begin working on a medial plan. Other problems needing attention were pointed out.

The Polk County Rescue Squad requested $795 for 2 1-man stretchers and 2 electric cups for determining blood pressure. This was granted.

Among other business, the Commissioners supported Hugh McBrayer, of Rutherford County, for district representative to the board of N. C. Association of County Commissioners. Saue read two letters commending the county office for improvements in procedures and on keeping the courthouse clean and in good condition. — League of Women voters Observer

Take Test

At Polk Central High School 40 Juniors, and 10 Sophomores took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) on October 21.

The PSAT/NMSQT is annually administered by the Educational Testing Service to interested Juniors, and Sophomores. The purpose of the test is to help prepare the students for the important Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) that they will take in their Senior year; as well as to find out which Juniors qualify to compete in the national scholarship competition, which is conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

The scores, which reflect the student's verbal, and mathematical abilities are on a scale from 20-80 for each of the two sections, which is comparable to the 200-800 scale similarly used for the SAT. Student reaction to the test varied, with comments ranging from: "...very hard test." to "...amusing little quiz". At any rate the students will receive their scores, and have their test booklets returned (which is to be a new practice) in about six weeks. — Reporter
