Polk County Community Schools

The Polk County Community Schools program has mailed a special issue of its monthly publication, "Polk Salet", to all county residents this week, chock full of articles and pictures of school and community happenings of the past month and months ahead.

The newsletter, in a modified form and without photographs, is published monthly by the Polk County Community Schools program and sent home with each schoolchild. This expanded issue was prepared and mailed to the larger audience in order to inform better all county residents of activities in and around the county school system.

"Polk Salet" was not mailed to Tryon City residents, but is available at the following locations: the Chambers of Commerce, the Tryon Bulletin, Thermal Belt News Offices, the Banks, Isothermal and the Meeting place, Lanier and Polk Libraries, and Cowan's and Smith's Supermarkets, among others.

It is hoped that those citizens with skills, programs and time to share will contact the Community Schools office at 894-3905. The children of Polk County can only gain by sharing the experience and life experiences of our many talented citizens. — Reporter
