

27 Learn CRP At Skyuka

Twenty-Seven persons who journeyed up Tryon Mountain to Camp Skyuka last Saturday completed the Red Cross "Race For Life" course in CPR — cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

A team of four instructors from the Red Cross Piedmont Chapter, Spartanburg, taught the course, using a half-dozen manikins.

The rigorous activity was broken by a pork barbecue dinner. It was served by the YMCA camp director, Henry Meares and Mrs. Meares. The free meal was made possible by special contributions of Red Cross supporters.

An orientation in the broad spectrum of Red Cross volunteer opportunities completed the day's program.

"It was a real mountaintop experience", commented one participant. "A fine example of community spirit and service," said another. "And it couldn't have been done without the close inter-chapter cooperation of the Red Cross," said still another.

The CRP training covered the one-rescuer procedure which combines chest compressions with mouth-to-mouth breathing. Most of Saturday's participants will complete the full CRP course in another session in a central location either Saturday, Nov. 29, or Saturday, Dec. 9. This will cover two-rescuer CPR care for choking victims and the refinements of CPR for babies and small children.

Those who completed the Skyuka training are asked to designate their preference of date for the followup by calling Shirley Arledge, executive secretary of Polk County Chapter, Red Cross. — Reporter

Consumer Affairs

The November issue of UNC-A's "The Rag & Bone" has an article on "Consumer Affairs: hot tips" by John Leon. John is better known to his Tryon friends as Jeff.

Jeff, who is a freshman at UNC-A has written a satire on automobiles (or maybe its women). Anyway Jeff compares certain makes and models of automobiles with certain women.

It's a "tongue in cheek" type of humor and we expect that Jeff had as much fun writing it as we did in reading it.

Communication

November 17, 1980

To The Editor:

On behalf of the Thermal Belt Business and Professional Women's Club, I would like to thank The News Leader, Tryon Daily Bulletin, Thermal Belt News Journal, WTYN and WKIT Radio Stations for the many announcements made regarding our paper drive held last week. We would also like to thank the people and businesses for their participation, and a special thanks to Community Cash for allowing us to use their parking lot. Without everyone's help, it could not have been so successful!

We plan to sponsor another paper drive early in the spring. With the funds achieved from these drives, our Club will send two delegates from Landrum High School to Palmetto Girls State and one delegate each from Tryon High School and Polk Central High School to Tar Heel Girls State, each being held in June 1981.

Thank you so much!

Sincerely,

Thermal Belt Business and Professional Women's Club
Linda R. Marston
President
