Communication

To The Editor:

This past week I have gained a certain notoriety and taken a lot of kidding from people who read in your paper that one John Nash was arrested on a DUI charge. Not entirely displeased with the unearned attention, but desirous of establishing the facts, I went to the Polk County Courthouse where the public record revealed that the John Nash in question is from Spartanburg.

No doubt other county residents have been startled to find themselves similarly, though inadvertently, catapulted into the limelight, a situation that might be avoided by printing the addresses in your court report.
