The November 17th issue of "The New Yorker" magazine had a book review of "The Old Die Young", by Richard Lockridge. "Mr. Lockridge is 82 years old and this is his 83rd book, and the news — the extraordinary news — is that it shows him to be still in full possession of his powers. It has to do with murder (by barbiturates) of an aging actor miscast in a Broadway comedy, and it is as bright and lively, as well bred, as neatly polished and plotted, and as lightly entertaining as most of its predecessors."
