AFS News

Six area students, along with others from Western North and South Carolina, participated in an AFS regional applicant screening weekend at Camp Skyuka recently. The Skyuka weekend was a first for our area, and according to participants, it was a very successful and enjoyable experience. In addition to the individual interviews conducted, the Skyuka weekenders shared in many other activities, including a talent show — complete with singers and a bellydancer, guitar sing-a-longs, Russian folk dances, group interviews and walks and hikes through the woods. The next step in the AFS application process is a board review which is currently being conducted in New York. — Reporter
