No official weather report for Thursday, but it was a rainy, dreary day — something all of us have looked forward to having.

We went to press early with this edition so that we could attend the graduation of our son, John, from Clemson University Friday at 11 a.m. We didn't set the time, but felt that we should be there for the occasion.

Remember that the Red Cross Bloodmobile is at the Episcopal Church today from 12 noon to 5:30 p.m.

Tryon will be on PM Magazine over WLOS-TV tonight at 7:30.

Tonight at 8 p.m. Gilbert Grosvenor, National Geographic Society President will give a slide-talk at the Fine Arts Center for the benefit of the Red Cross.

The Tryon Town Council meets at 7:30 tonight at the Town Hall. The Polk County School Board meets tonight at 7:30 at the Extension Conference Room in the courthouse annex. The Tryon School Board has a special meeting tonight with the PTA Board in the Superintendent's office at the high school.

Communication

Health Fair Was A Big Success

The Thermal Belt Health Fair, sponsored locally by the Health Service Information Center, Inc. on April 10 and 11, screened 482 persons at the Episcopal Church.

This fortunate result is in no small measure, due to your volunteer efforts and to those fellow civic minded individuals who lent their professional expertise and time to this venture.

On behalf of the Fair Committee each of us wishes to thank you most kindly for your help.

We could not have done it alone!

Leonard Bohner, Pres. HSIC
Kay Williams and
Bernice Hoffman,
Co-Chairman,

Dear Mayor Tucker:

Please express by appreciation to the citizens of Tryon for the proclamation your city passed on the occasion of our return from captivity in Iran. The support we received from Americans across the country while we were held hostage helped to sustain us through our long ordeal. The warmth of our welcome home has been magnificent.

Thank you so very much.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Ann Swift
