Man Shot; Thrown In Well; And Still Alive

Polk County Sheriff Boyce Carswell reported that Tyrone Davis, 33, a member of the Spartanburg Fire Department, was brought to Polk Saturday, shot, thrown down an abandoned well and is still alive to talk about it.

Mr. Davis told Sheriff Carswell that a white female, age about 50 and a white male, age about 25, picked him up in the Red Lobster in Spartanburg Saturday afternoon. He said that they brought him to a dirt road (White Oak Rd.) near the Coxe place where they parked at an abandoned house. He was shot in the neck with a large hand gun about 6 p.m. They then tied his hands and dragged him about 30 ft. to an abandoned well. They then threw him down the well and shot several times in the well after they threw him in.

Sheriff Carswell said that there was no water in the well, but the bottom was soft.

After the man and woman left, Mr. Davis said that he climbed out of the well and walked about three miles to the home of Kenneth Roddy. Mr. Roddy carried him to the Green River Baptist Church Parsonage from where the Sheriff and the Ambulance were called about 10:30 p.m. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital where he was treated and admitted and then

Auditions For Music Scholarship

Young musicians from across the state will be competing this winter for a chance to boost their music careers through one year of free studies.

The "NCNB 1982 Music Competition", sponsored by North Carolina National Bank, will award two full, one-year scholarships to the School of Music at the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem.

Winners in the statewide competition will be selected based on regional auditions Feb. 6 in Marion, Salisbury, Raleigh and Greenville and a final competition in Charlotte Feb. 23.

The competition is open to residents of North Carolina who have not reached their 20th birthdays and who are not enrolled in institutions of higher learning in the state. Competition is open to strings, woodwinds, brass, percussion, harp, piano, classical guitar and voice.

Applications, which must be in by Jan. 21, can be obtained from music teachers or by writing Shelby Graham, NCNB Corporation, T15-4, Charlotte, N. C., 28255.

Miss Beth Benson of Georgia Tech University has arrived at her home in Tryon for the holidays.
