Money Not Approved To Hold Elections

The Polk County Commissioners met 15 March, 1982, and presented Emergency Management Coordinator Kenneth Faulkner with a framed resolution of appreciation for the work he has done.

Ray Watson, Board of Elections, reported that the Asheville Board of Elections can send three men to set up Polk's voting machines for $1000/election, which is $400 more than budgeted. Arledge wanted Watson to find out when there would be a school to train our own persons and how much it would cost. After a rather heated discussion, Butler said it was not the commissioners job to tell the agencies how to run themselves and moved that $800 be appropriated for the primary and runoff elections. Butler for, Sauve and Arledge against.

In other business, the Stoneybrook Subdivisions Section 2 was approved. A progress report on the plans for renovating the Meeting Place was given. The 1982-83 budget calendar was accepted. — League of Women Voters Observer

Clifford Snyder, 69, of Landrum, Rt. 3, was tried for DUI (third offense), three years and $2,000, suspended to eight months or $550 and two years probation on Monday in General Sessions Court in Spartanburg. — from Spartanburg Herald

Truck Fire

The Tryon Volunteer Fire Department was called to a truck fire Tuesday about 8:30 a.m. in front of Tryon Motors. A truck was owned by Mack Henson of Tryon, and the fire was out before too much damage was done.

Shows Art Work At ECU Mar. 20—27

Two-dimensional art work by Jay Saxton Kelly of Columbus, a senior student in the East Carolina University School of Art, will be on view March 20—27 in the Kate Lewis Gallery in the Whichard Building in Greenville, N. C.

The show will feature oil, acrylic and mixed media paintings as well as a selection of photographs.

Kelly is a candidate for the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in painting, with a minor concentration in communication arts. He plans to pursue a career in photography, animation or audio-visual presentation in the Denver, Colo. area upon graduation.

He is the son of Don and Maggie Kelly of Overlook Drive, Columbus.

Cancer Program Friday At 7:30 P.M.

As April approaches, the Polk County Unit of the American Cancer Society is gearing up for its annual Crusade.

The first event will be an evening of varied entertainment on Friday, March 19, at the Mill Spring School, with a special guest speaker: beauty queen and free-lance writer Judy hamby, acclaimed nationwide for her wit and "down-home" humor.

Friday's program will feature a veritable "who's who" of Polk County talent as well, with Phil and Gaye Johnson heading up the list, followed by the Polk County Cloggers and their bluegrass band, and the entire Polk Central High School Band, under the direction of David Senn. Mr. Senn his wife Peggy, his brother Jerry, and sister-in-law, Brenda will form a singing quarter to close the program. Master of ceremonies will be Mill Spring School Principal Alan Peoples.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. and is open to the public with no charge for admission. — Reporter
