Nick Faldo beat Raymond Floyd on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff to win his second consecutive Masters. With his victory, the 32-year-old Englishman joined Jack Nicklaus as the only defending champion to repeat at Augusta.

Betty Czetwertynski, 90, who died Saturday, was a great competitor, yet a sportsman in every sense. She led a full life and was still one of the top bridge players in the area at age 90. She loved to win, but was gracious if she lost. She and her husband Stan were synonymous with bridge in this area.

Morris (the Tryon Riding & Hunt Club wooden horse) should be pleased with his remodeled headquarters. The small rock wall is very attractive.

The annual meeting and luncheon of the Polk County Community Foundation is Thursday at 12 noon at The Vineyard.

Thursday at 8 p.m. "Bridge On The River Kwai" will be the film club's presentation at the Fine Arts Center.

Sierra Outing At Pearson's Falls

The newly formed Pisgah Sierra Group which includes members in Polk, Henderson and Transylvania counties is holding its first Polk County function as an outing to Pearson's Falls on Wednesday, April 18, starting at 3 p.m. Participants will join one of Professor Ivan Kuster's classes which will be studying the wildflowers of the area.

John Freeman, Chairman of the Pisgah Group, says he is especially anxious that Sierrans in Polk County attend so they can know each other and that he can start becoming acquainted with members living in this area. While the group holds its monthly meetings in Brevard, it wants to build into its program an outreach to members throughout the Group's territory. In addition, this outing gives participants an opportunity to observe the very interesting wildflowers in the area and blooming at this season.

Members and guests are invited to assemble at the entrance to the Falls area at 3 o'clock. Freeman will wear a green ribbon on his cap for identification.

Bill Thomas, President of Sierra Club's N.C. State Chapter will hopefully join the group after he speaks to a Tryon garden club group that same afternoon. — Reporter

Jim Valvano's 10 year reign as N.C. State's basketball coach ended Saturday when he agreed to take a $212,000 buyout to terminate his contract.
