25 YEARS
SERVICE

Isothermal is a good transition place. When I entered college after graduation from high school, I wasn't ready to go straight to a university setting. I wouldn't have been able to handle it. I enjoyed my two years of living at home and going to college and enjoyed getting to know my instructors, something that doesn't happen at a large university where the faculty is set apart. I earned 62 credit hours that transferred to UNCC. My two years at Isothermal prepared me for university life.
