The news summary: Another oil supertanker was in distress this week — this one in the Gulf of Mexico. The tanker had 38 million gallon of crude oil on board, and appeared to be listing to one side Sunday as on board fires raged out of control.

Only 7,000 gallons of oil had leaked so far, according to Monday's reports, and Coast Guard officials were hopeful the fires could be brought under control and the ship's cargo saved.

South Carolina voters head to the polls today, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for primary elections.

Columbus May Limit Height Of Signs

The Columbus Town Board of Commissioners last week discussed limiting the height of signs in their town.

Town administrator Butch Smith said the board discussed limiting all single support signs to a maximum height of 30 ft. He said variances for signs in the "federal corridor" along I-26 may allow signs as high as 50 feet.

In other business:

- The board annexed Isothermal Community College.

- The board adopted a pre-treatment sewage ordinance which provides for fines up to $1,000 a day for industries not complying with the ordinance.

- Homar A. Jones asked the board to consider increasing its involvement in the development of a park in front of the Stearns School building.

- The board discussed its 1990-91 budget. Smith said the total budget is $640,000, of which only $71,000 comes from property taxes. The rest of the revenue comes from water and sewer fees, he said.

Smith said the town, however, is expecting its tax base to grow next year when construction projects around I-26 are completed.

Baseball Mania

On Sunday, June 17, After-Church-in-the-Park will show it's second film of the summer, "Baseball Mania."

From Babe Ruth, "The Sultan of Swat," to Roger Clemens, "The King of Strikeouts", from the crack of the bat to the roar of the crowd, from sandlots to Fenway Park, "Baseball Mania" transports you from goofs to greatness on the diamond.

Beyond the beseiged umps, tornado tempered managers, players that leap beyond the grasp of gravity and even a skunk patrolling centerfield, "Baseball Mania" looks beneath the cheers to the faith that inspires the men behind the bats.

"Baseball Mania" features players from many of the Major Leagues including the New York Mets, the Boston Red Socks, the Los Agneles Dodgers, and the San Diego Padres. Players discuss their professional skills and spiritual struggles with the lure of drugs, money, fame and success. "Baseball Mania" is hilarious pro-ball action with a heart-touching Christian message. Come join the fun!

This film will be shown at the Tryon High Open Air Gym at 9 p.m. — Reporter
