There are still seats available for the Tryon Crafts bus trip to Cherokee Oct. 11. If you would like to go along, view the beautiful scenery at the height of fall color and do some shopping on the reservation, call 859-8323.

On Sunday, Oct. 7 at 3 p.m. WLOS-TV will broadcast a debate between Congressman James McClure Clarke and challenger Charles Taylor.

If you want to be a part of picking the winner Nov. 6, you must register to vote no later than Monday, Oct. 8. A list of voter registrars for each precinct is inside today's Bulletin.

If you have not voted in the last two consecutive presidential elections, or any time in between, then you need to register to vote. If you have, you will be on the voting rolls already.

The Columbus Town Council meets tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall. The most important item on the agenda is the appointment of a replacement for the late Grover Hutcherson. A story previewing the meeting and that decision is on the front page today.

Smith May Choose Next Councilman

Columbus Mayor Paul T. Smith may be called upon to choose the newest member of the Columbus Town Council tonight.

The council must appoint a member to replace Grover Hutcherson, who died recently, Town Administrator Butch Smith said. A special election cannot be called.

But the two remaining councilmen have different ideas about who should be appointed, and the mayor may have to cast the deciding vote.

Dr. Tom Bolling said he believes the replacement ought to be Kathleen McMillian since she was the next highest voter getter in the last election.

The vote totals were: Paul Smith, 266, Robert Ormand, 189, Tom Bolling, 184, Kathleen McMillian, 180, and Charles Blackwell, 148.

Robert Ormand said he intends to nominate Charles Blackwell, his running mate in the last election.

"He served four years (on town council) before," Ormand said. "He is a businessman in town."

Ormand said he believes Blackwell would be good for Columbus. "We are trying to work for the betterment of the town," he said. "We are trying to get people to work together."

Mayor Smith said he hopes Bolling and Ormand will come to an agreement. "If they can't, I'll have to decide," he said. "I don't know whether they'll get together
