The weather Election Day was: high 71, low 45, hum. 84 percent and .12 inches of rain fell overnight Monday.

Pearson's Falls will be featured on TV tonight at 6:30 p.m. on the Carolina Journal Show, South Carolina ETV Network, Channel 49 or Channel 11 on Cencom Cable. This will be the second appearance on TV this fall for the local attraction.

Since the postal service will be closed Monday for Veteran's Day, there will be no Bulletin published Monday and the Bulletin office will be closed. However, the Bulletin staff will be working part of the day to complete Tuesday's paper so that weekend news will be included.

There will be a ham and turkey supper at the Pea Ridge Community Building Saturday from 4 to 8 p.m.

That same night, the Thermal Belt Rotary Club will be hosting its annual Potato Bake from 5 to 8 p.m.

William E. Leverette Jr., a retired professor of history from Furman University, will discuss the Victorian era today at the Lanier Library 11 a.m.

Dr. Douglas Rayner of Wofford College will describe a survey he

It's McCormack, Deck, And Cochran

No one rang the courthouse bell in Columbus election night.

Usually the Republicans, or the Democrats, after the final tallies are in, parade over to the historic courthouse building and yank the belltower rope, sending the message of their victory peeling out for all within hearing distance.

Not this year. For the first time Registrar Dale Edwards can ever remember, Polk County voters split their decision, sending one Republican and two Democrats to sit on the county board.

"I didn't even think about the bell until I got home," board chairman Jeannie Martin, a Republican, said Wednesday. "It's just something that's always been done. But who really won? No one rang the bell, because no one really felt they could."

The Republicans, with Tim McCormack as the top vote getter, retain a majority on the Polk County Board of Commissioners.

The Democrats, with former commissioner Carson Deck finishing second, and Sue Cochran winning the third seat, won two out of three seats in this election year.

McCormack and Deck, by virtue of their first and second place finishes, won four year terms. Cochran won a two-year term and will stand for re-election in 1992, along with
