"Home For The Holidays"

The weather Thursday: high 63, low 26, hum. 67%.

The Tryon Town Council meets tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall.

The Landrum Town Council meets tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. at the Landrum Town Hall.

There will be no December meeting of the Commission on Aging.

The VA Service and Emergency Management offices will be closed this week. Jim Cochran is taking some vacation.

Rick and Carolyn Drazien have sold their restored English Tudor house off Warrior Drive and are heading back to Florida. Rick, who you may remember as the occasional "Smack Dab" columnist, stopped by to say a "temporary" good-bye Friday, so maybe they'll be back.

The 1991 Budweiser Clydesdale Calendar is off the presses and copies are available around town at Budweiser dispensaries. When you get yours, be sure to notice the pictures accompanying the March/April, May/June, and Sept./Oct. pages — they were taken in Polk County, on Hunting Country Road, at the entrance to Jigsaw Farm, and by the old Block House steeplechase course

"Panorama" Gets High Marks

Panorama, the literary magazine of Tryon High School, recently received an Award of Distinction from the North Carolina Scholastic Press Association. Areas judged in the appraisal were balance, appearance, layout, graphics, printing, content and innovation.

In its evaluation each year, NCSA also identified outstanding work done by particular students. For their work in the 1989-90 edition of Panorama three individuals received honors. Eric Killough received an honorable mention for his poetry; Cameron Fitch got a second place award in graphics; and Sterling Peoples received third place honors in photography.

Journalism advisor J. Alan Peoples has a few copies of the 1989-90 edition remaining and suggests that they would make excellent Christmas gifts. Mr. Peoples is available at Polk Central High School. — Reporter
