Wildflowers At FENCE Wednesday

It's a little early yet, but spring is definitely on the way. Tree buds are swelling; the maples are blooming; the Hepaticas are still holding their own by the creek along the Pine Woods Trails.

This coming Wednesday, March 13, the first of FENCE's spring Wildflower Walks will introduce beginners and experts alike to these and the signs of the season at FENCE. Meet Phil Nisbet at the Trial Shelter at 10 a.m. for a 2-hour liesurely walk.

Other walks are scheduled for March 27 at Cove Creek, April 10 at FENCE, and April 24 at Pearson's Falls. For more information on these and other public nature programs, call FENCE 859-9032.

On Exhibit

The landscapes of Lawrence Mazzanovich a resident of Tryon from 1925 until his death in 1959, is being featured in a showing at the Tryon Fine Arts Center Gallery which began Sunday, March 10. The show will continue through Saturday, March 23.

Mazzanovich was born at sea off the coast of California in 1871 or 1872. His father, from Dalmatia in Yugoslavia, and his mother, a native of Venice, settled eventually in Chicago. Originally an illustrator, he studied at the Art Institute of Chicago.

Motivated by his first wife Ann, Mazzanovich moved to Paris and after returning to America, became a major contributor to the American adaptation of French Impressionism. The years 1910 through 1925 marked the period of his greatest creativity and his critical rewards. He was greatly influenced by the work of Claude Monet.

The pictures are on loan from local residents and are presented as a visual gift to local visitors. Gallery hours are from 10 to 12 noon and 2 to 4 p.m. weekdays, and Saturday from 10 to 12 noon. —Community Reporter
