E-911 Service Now On Line

The new Emergency-911 phone service for Polk County officially went on line Monday morning.

Polk County Manager John Lewis told the Board of Commissioners Monday evening that callers may now dial just three digits, 9-1-1, and reach dispatchers for emergency services including fire, police or ambulance for any part of the county, with the exception of Saluda and that portion of Sunny View served by the Rutherford phone exchange.

"We have encountered some technical problems in getting the 911 lines into the sheriff's office from those areas," Lewis said Tuesday morning. He said the county is working with Southern Bell, which handles Rutherford, and Telephone and Data Systems Inc., which owns the former Saluda Mountain Telephone Co., to work out the details.

"It is going to take awhile," Lewis said. "Longer than we anticipated and certainly longer than we would like."

Tryon and the county worked out an agreement by which any Tryon calls will immediately be switched from the sheriff's office dispatchers to Tryon dispatchers, who will also be using the new E-911 computer equipment.

With the E-911 computer equipment, dispatchers will see

Toni Baker and Ken Yeager Rehearsing Their Duet

Spring Duet

$14 Million In Polk Bonds Sold

Polk County borrowed $14 million Tuesday morning, and promised to pay it all back within 20 years.

A consortium of banks and brokerage houses purchased the $14 million in school bonds at an average interest rate of 6.59 percent, .36 percent less than the 20 composite index for bond sales on that day

The consortium includes Wachovia Bank & Trust, First Union National Bank, Interstate Securities, First Charlotte Corp., Dean Witter Reynolds Inc., Wheat First Securities, J. Lee Peeler, McDaniel, Lewis & Co., Robinson-Humphrey Inc., Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith Inc., Smith Barney, First Chicago Corp., and Capital Markets.

According to the state officials who opened the bids in Raleigh for the Local Government Commission of the State Treasury Department, Wachovia Bank & Trust purchased insurance on the bonds, allowing them to be sold at an AAA rating.

Polk County was rated A by both Standard & Poor's and Moody's bond rating agencies. However, by purchasing insurance from Financial Guarantee Insurance Company, the bonds can be sold as AAA rated bonds.

"That opens up the market to investment grade buyers," said Jack Hastings of the Hender-
