Hal Fisher won the South Carolina Annual Beef Cook-Off with his Mexindian Beef With Black Bean Sauce last Thursday.

A resident of Lake Bowen, Fisher is the sixth consecutive resident of Spartanburg County to win the contest. He is employed with McFarland's Funeral Home in Tryon.

In addition to holding down the Spartanburg tradition this year, Fisher also has broadened a family cooking dynasty. He is the stepson of Martha Davis, the 1988 winner. Davis' daughter-in-law, Linda Davis of Landrum, won the event last year.

Kindergarten registration at the elementary schools for children who will be five by Oct. 16 is being held Friday, May 10 in Green Creek; and Tuesday, May 14 in Tryon.

The Tryon Community Chorus 1991 Spring Concert tickets are on sale. Proceeds from the three performances May 17, 18, and 19 go to the Rotary Scholarship Fund.

Summer Programs For Discovery House

Discovery House of the Arts will offer two five-day workshops in June for children from 4 to 16 years of age.

The purpose of both workshops is to stimulate creativity and curiosity in the arts. Flyers are being distributed this week to students from kindergarten through sixth grade announcing dates, times, and costs.

From June 17 to 21, a visual arts workshop will introduce children to famous artists in various mediums. They will learn to create artistic products of their own, including paper and books.

From June 24 to 28, workshops in theatre and music will focus on staging, scripts, and set design.

Students will be grouped by age and there will be a qualified instructor and assistant for each class. Classes will be held at Discovery House, the Tryon Fine Arts Center, and Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

The summer program is organized by Lucy Brannon and Cindy Gentry, Discovery House board members. For further information, call Brannon, 859-6297, or Discovery House, 859-7691.

Registration for both workshops is May 10 at Discovery House from 3-6 p.m. Classes will be limited in size and pre-registration is required.

T.P.S. Juried Show Begins This Sunday

The Tryon Painters and Sculptors presents its Biennial Western North Carolina Art Exhibit beginning with a reception from 3 to 5 p.m. this Sunday.

The exhibit will continue until Sat., May 25th. Hostesses for the reception will be Princess Ransom and April Frost Bundy.

The exhibit has been judged by Ms. Gaynell Bowles of the North Carolina Museum of Art. Prizes are awarded for the first three places and, in addition, five honorable mentions are given.

Ms. Bowles has had extensive experience in running art programs and teaching art history with the San Diego Museum of Art before joining the education staff in Raleigh.

New Arrival

A daughter was born Monday, May 6 to Peggy and Grady Garren Jr. of Saluda.

Deerfield Tea

The Women of Holy Cross are holding a silver tea today from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the home of Joe and Bertie Phayer on Mockingbird Hill.

Residents of Deerfield, the Episcopal retirement community near Asheville, will be guests of honor at this annual event to which all Holy Cross parishioners are invited.

Wolverines Capture Golf Championship

On a pleasant but windy spring day, the Wolverines of Polk County High School emerged victorious in the 1991 1A/2A Western Regional Golf Championship held May 6th at Red Fox Country Club.

The day began with the threat of rain and perhaps even severe spring weather, but the clouds parted and the sun shone as the time to commence the tournament approached.

Twenty schools and some 92 players were represented in this year's tournament. Of the 20 teams, only the top three would advance to the state tournament next week in Chapel Hill, along with four individuals who were not members of one of the top teams.

The windy conditions combined with the weekend rains made the course at Red Fox play very long and made the task of the competitors a great deal more difficult.

The Wolverines went out in the second group of schools with senior members of the team Travis Dotson, Travis Callahan, and Keith Nelson leading the way. The last two Wolverines to begin the competition were sophomores Chad Dotson and Mark Smith.

It was expected that the seniors would provide the leadership which they had demonstrated all season and they did not fail in this task.

"However, the exceptional
