Nominees Sought For Philanthropy Award

What person, business or non-profit organization in Western North Carolina has made outstanding contributions through philanthropy?

Nominations are now being sought for the Raymond A. Hust Philanthropic Leadership Award. The first annual awards program is sponsored by the Community Foundation of Western N.C., which serves 18 counties.

Awards will be made in three categories - individual, business, and non-profit organization. In each category, the recipient will be invited to designate a charitable organization in the 18-county region to receive $1,000 from the Community Foundation of Western N.C.

Anyone may submit a nomination. The deadline for nominations is 5 p.m. on May 1, when all nomination materials must be in the Community Foundation office.

A committee including Foundation Board members and other individuals from the region will select recipients and announce the awards at the Second Annual Community Foundation Friends Luncheon on July 22.

Raymond A. Hust was instrumental in establishing the Community Foundation of Western N.C. and this award has been created to perpetuate the spirit of generosity which epitomizes his life.

The Philanthropic Leadership Award recognizes local philanthropy in Western N.C. Nominees must live or be based in one of these counties: Avery, Buncombe, Burke, Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Haywood, Henderson, Jackson, Macon, Madison, McDowell, Mitchell, Polk, Rutherford, Swain, Transylvania, and Yancey counties.

For nomination materials or more information about this awards program, contact the Community Foundation office at 704-254-4960.
