

Carolina Carriage Club

Carolina Carriage Club members shared a special Spring Drive and Picnic, Sat., April 11, over the hills and trails of the old hunting country.

April greens and blossoming pink and white dogwood, viewed from a cart with muscled pony trotting out in front, are a heart-warming sight. They provide for "ships" and passengers an indescribable sense of well being after a week of dealing with a troubled world.

A pitch-in picnic called everyone back to the "Lil Pin" hilltop. Much of the delicious food devoured will be featured as recipes in a new CCC Cookbook to be published soon.

Club members will polish the brass again next weekend for the pre-Steeplechase parade of carriages.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Town Council of the Town of Tryon will hold a public hearing on Monday, April 20, 1992. This hearing will be held in the Tryon Town Hall at 6:30 p.m. An amendment to the Tryon Zoning Ordinance will be open for public comment. This amendment involves the creation of a new R-5 single family zoning district. Setback requirements and permitted uses will be the same as in current R-4 districts with the following exception. R-5 districts will allow manufactured homes as a conditional use on single family lots. Four areas have been recommended for this new zoning classification. These areas are described below:

1. North of Capps Road and East of Highway 108 to the Tryon zoning limits.
2. South of Highway 176 and bounded on the southern and eastern sides by the Pacolet River, to the Tryon zoning limits.
3. Markham Road in the area including Livingston Street.
4. The Lyle Street area including Jackson Street Extension.

The public may view these planned changes at the Tryon Town Hall during regular business hours. Residents are also invited to attend the meeting. adv.mar.31,apr.6,8,13,15,20,c.
