The weather Tuesday, high 74, low 66, hum. 60 percent. Precipitation as of 7 a.m. Thursday was .01 inches.

An interesting point was made at Monday's Tryon Town Council meeting on the curfew.

A retired lady, who said she has only lived here a year, asked what entertainment we offered our youth to give them something wholesome to do and keep them off the streets. She asked particularly if the new high school had a swimming pool, an activity which would provide both sport and fun.

Dear lady, if only all the retired residents of our community were as concerned about our youth as you are. It was the retirees who protested the cost of a swimming pool when the new high school plans were drawn up. They considered a swimming pool to be a luxury for which the taxpayers shouldn't have to pay.

Speaking of Monday's meeting on solutions to Tryon's downtown problems in the bar area . . . Barry Flood called to point out that the Tryon Movie Theater has never had any

Duke Power Gives Fan Relief Money

Duke Power Co. has donated $100 to Polk County in "Operation Fan-Heat Relief."

This special emergency project is designed to help elderly North Carolinians cope with the summer heat by providing electric fans for those who are at least 60 years old and have an existing home situation which present a threat to the person's health and well being.

Three electric power companies in the state have donated funds for customers in their service areas to purchase electric fans: Duke Power and Carolina Power and Light both donated $20,000 total, and North Carolina Power contributed $2,500.

Project Fan-Heat Relief is administered by the North Carolina Division of Aging. Polk County's fans will be disbursed through the Polk County Commission on Aging.

Car Too Hot For Pet

Now that summertime has arrived, please remember it is probably safer to leave your pet home, rather than leaving them in the car on a hot day. The inside of an auto is twice as hot as the air temperature - and a pet can easily suffocate if left even for a short time. Foothills Humane Society, 863-4444.

Communication

Dear Jeff:

I'm sure that there will be some follow up information released concerning the ERA Walker Agency's "Lock Up" to benefit MDA. I would appreciate it if you would include it in your story that 26 members of the Tryon Kiwanis Club donated $175 to bail out their president, Leo Baird, and fellow member, Otho Gibbs, so they could attend their weekly meeting at noon that day.
