THE YELLOW FEVER. Considering the heat of the weather, and the intolerably filthy state of many parts of the city, it is nothing stranget hat there should be yellow fever but it is a little strange that there is not more of it .-If intensely hot weather and filthy streets have any thing to do with the creation of ye.low fever, or fever of any kind, it is a little surprising that we have not more of it. We do not, as yet, see any cause for alarm to those who are regular and moderate in their hab. its, and who use those common means of preventing disease, which all must use, in any part of the United States, at this season of the year, if they wish to preserve their health, and escape dangerous diseases. Those who are not in the habit of using those preventive means are liable to be sick any where; and more so in N-Orleans than elsewhere. If a verson commits excesses in his mode of living it is folly for him to expect health any where .-There is no place to which they can flee and be safe. If a man will eat and drink to excess, keep late and irregular hours, expose himself to the hot sun by day and to the open damp air by night, he has no right to expect health; and with such a course of living he commit all sorts of excesses, and then wonder that they are sick. They cram themselves to excess the morning, and lie in bed half the day. They are could be resuscitated. finally seized with a violent fever or some other serious disease, and wonder what the cause can be They do not for a moment imagine that it is their mode of living; for they are ready to declare, that in their mode of living they are " regular as clock work" and perfectly moderate. It only remains then to throw the blame upon the climate.

There are certain very simple and easy rules that require to be observed in any climate in order to preserve health, and in New Orleans especially should these rules be regarded. They are such as the following: Rise in the morning at half past four eat till you do not want any more, never si: two ery. hours over a dinner table, cramming and drinking wine or anything else, so as to be dull and sleepy after leaving the table. Take merely a cup of tea and a cake, or piece of bread, for supper, and never later than seven o'clock. Whatever silly fashion may dictate in regard to meals, let health be the only director, and let fashion govern those who are able and willing to be sick. Throw intericating liquors to the dogs; and eschew pork, in all its forms, as a Jew. Eat occasionally of a little good and perfectly ripe fruit, but only a little at a time. least some time after eating, and use the flesh brush and a plenty of good soap. Do not remain in the for her. cold bath over ten minutes, and it your lungs are past ten at night. If your business is such as not to give you plenty of healthy exercise, take it in the morning, on foot or on a good horse; but never get into a carriage as long as you are well and able to walk.

Read the newspapers regularly, and keep up good spirits-not by eating and drinking as is too much the custom-but by seeking intelligent company, visiting places of innocent and rational amusement, and by change of scene. If you ever think of yellow fever, just consider that it is no more contagious than any other fever-in fact not at all contagious, and that all you have to do in order to be perfectly safe, is to observe the above simple rules. One thing more-let all quack medicines alone; and if you think that medicine is necessary, consult some regular physician.

A TALE OF AFFLICTION.

We learn that the insane passenger on the steamboat Baltic, whose case was noticed in the Gazette two weeks since, died at the Asylum in this city yesterday, without any return of his reason. His funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this forenoon at the house of Mr. John Thorn, 26 Whitsboro' st., where his wife has remained since his committal to

The name of this unfortunate stranger was John Gilbert Collins. He was from Hull in Yorkshire. England, where he was a clerk in a bank, at a sala ry of £900. A fellow clerk having come to this country and purchased a farm in Wisconsin, thirty or forty miles from Racine, on his revisiting England induced Mr. Collins to try his fortune also in this country.

He reached New York with his wife some two months since, having buried on the passage his 26 KEGS prime Goshen Butter, just received per child and a nephew who accompanied them. They immediately proceeded West, traveling by the canal. At Lockport, Mr. Collins wished to visit the Falls, left his wife to go on with the boat, expecting to meet her at Buffalo on the night of the same day. The boat was detained on the way, by the death of a passenger, and by an injury it received, a couple of days, during which time it has been ascertained Mr. Collins was in Buffalo, inquiring at the boats 50 BUSHELS of Prime Cow Pens for sale by for his wife. On her arrival there she could obtain no tidings of him, but she went on board the steamboat in which they were to go up the lakes, and he joined her there just as the boat was leaving. His wife kept on with him to their destination, and they remained at the farm he had intended purchasing, three or four weeks, when his case became so, bad that she was obliged to take him to an Asylum.

We understand that he was a temperate, respectable man, and that he and his wife had been for many years church members. She is truly a daughter of affliction, having lost within a year two brothers and a sister, a nephew, her only child and her husband, and being now left friendless in a strange land .- Utica Gaz., 30th ult, SEVERE PUNISHMENT.-The punishment of M. Teste, and other French Peers, recently convicted of bribery, is exceedingly severe, and should be a warning to all others.

The civil degradation consists in depriving the condemned of all functions or employment in any public office; they are deprived of the right to vote, of eligibility to any office, indeed of all rights, civil and political, and of the right to wear any kind of decoration; they are incapacitated from giving testimony as a witness in a court of law, from holding any situation in any family, as tutor, curator, or councillor; from serving in the army, National Guard, or in bearing arms any where; they are forbidden to teach school, or to be employed in any establishment of instruction either as master, pro-

CATS AND BABIES .- We learn from the Prattsville Advocate, that a Mrs. Reynolds, of that village, was alone in her house with a babe about a year old, cannot have health long any where. Many persons and having occasi in to go into an upper room, left the child sitting on the floor; but while she was gone, a Maliese cat entered the room and scratched with all sorts of food at all hours; drink liquors a the babe's face in a number of places; it then got dozen times a day, eat and drink late at night, go to its nose into the child's mouth and sucked its breath bed with a full stomach, have disturbed sleeps in until the child was so far gone as to exhibit but few consequence, find themselves with a headache in | if any signs of life, and it was some time before it

A DREADFUL CHARGE-A Mr. Taylor, residing at Louisville, has been arrested, and at the latest accounts was in prison, for polsoning his wife and sister. He mixed arsenic with soda, and offered it to his wife, who refused to drink of it. This took place on Saturday. On Monday he deposited some of the poison in the coffee which was served for breakfast; the unconclous wife drank of the poisoned beverage, as did the sister also; immediate nausea and vomiting resulted; medical aid was speedily called in, and by proper applications and attentions the two persons were partially recovered. When last heard from the or five; eat moderately of such food as is found by parties were so much improved for the better as to observation to digest well in the stomach; never cause strong hopes to be entertained for their recov-

OF FAYETTEVILLE AND WILMINGTON. GREAT REDUCTION IN FREIGHT. Avevaging about 20 per cent.

New Steamer ROWAN, 17 inches, Steamer WILLIAM B. MEARES, Steamer COTTON PLANT, Flat Boats-BEN BERRY, ODD FELLOW, MIKE CRONLY, WASHINGTON, T. J. CURTIS,

THE Proprietors of the Merchants' Steam Bon Company of Fayetteville and Wilmington, N. C. offer the above Line of Boats, on the Cape Fear River, to the shipping public, under the late revision and reduction of Freights.

READY MONEY,

MARY ELIZA

Their new Steamer, ROWAN, now draws only 17 inches water. When she undergoes some alteration in machinery, her draft is calculated at 14 to 16 inches, which will make her the lightest boat navigating the waters of any river in the Southern country. Company flatter themselves that they have it now in their power to offer the most complete line of Boats that has ever been on the Cape Fear, and one that will do the freighting business with regularity and despatch on all stages of the water. They have, in connection with the Henrictta Company of this place, reduced the freights to the tariff as in printed rates. Neither of the Boating concerns deemed themselves able to reduce the freights and still do the forwarding business in this place free of charge, and consequently this Company have given it up, with the conviction, that the Forwarding Merchants of our town can do it more justice than a boating concern.

Any Goods consigned to the Merchants' Steam Boar Company, Wilmington, N. C., will be forwarded through that place free of commissions—all other charges made to the shipper.

The new arrangement takes effect from the 15th Passage $3, both ways.

The two companies will hereafter count all freight ash, or interest added. Direct letters to Thomas S. Lutterloh, Favetteville; . & W. L. McGary, Wilmington.

NOTICE TO DEALERS IN TURPENTINE & TAR

WILMINGTON June 1, 1847. THE undersigned, purchasers and dealers in Naval A Stores in this place, with a view to adopt some general regulations which seem to them to be founded justice, and more in accordance with the customs of other markets, have agreed to establish for their future government, the following

REGULATIONS.

That as no good reason is apparent to them for changing the size or weight of barrels of Turpentine, and it would be productive of inconvenience to the makers and puchasers, it will be purchased as heretofore, the gross weight of barrels to be 320 lbs. or 260 lbs. nett, the turpentine to be delivered on the yard for inspection at the expense of the seller; and as there has been in many cases, an unjust inequality, in fixing upon the amount of Extra, and whereas the law prescribes what the order of turpentine shall be, when exposed for sale, without proscribing any remedy in case it is not in said order, we therefore agree that hereafter a deduction shall be made under the denomination of extra cooperage as follows: For scuttling, packing, &c., one cent per barrel, for the first two hoops that may be lacking short of twelve as prescribed by law, one cent each, and for each hoop less than ten that may be short, two cents each, also what other labor may be necessary to put it in the order the law prescribes to be adjudged by the Inspectors, together with the usual deductions for unmerchantable barrels exceeding the number taken to pack. Purchases made at the Ruil Road depot will be subject to a deduction of two cents per bbl. drayage, thereby placing the sellers by Rail Road on a footing with those by water. These regulations to apply to Tar, only so far as regards the expenses of olling and drayage. The custom adopted in reference to the condition of the barrels it is supposed must be free from all objection, as turpentine put up in perfectorder will only be subject to a deduction of one cent per bbl. instead of the former rates of extra.

We also agree that in future we shall refuse to compromise for fraudulent mixture as heretofore, that we deem chips, straw, billets of wood, limbs, dirt, &c., as a fraudulent mixture, and that we shall abide by the strict letter of the law in all such cases. And whereas it appears that the Inspectors do not consider themselves authorized to make bills otherwise than as rescribed by law, that we will, in all cases, purchase by the bbl, of 320 lbs. and allow the Inspector to make his bill us the law directs 280 lbs, but that there shall be deducted from the bill one eighth of the amount.
