The following certificate was forwarded to Dr. Clickener, by his Agent at Lancaster, Pa. Angina Pectoris, or Discuses of the Heart. Lancaster, Peb. 17th, 1845.

I cannot express the obligation I um under to ou for recommending me to try Clickener's Sugar Conted Purgative Pill. You know I had been long afflicted by a complaint of the hearty which I bemoment, and very suddenly, if I did not find some thing to cure it. I used to be troubled with sudden oramps or pains at the pit of the stonnels. Now and then it would strike up through the breast and into the shoulder blades. I never knew when it was coming on. It would sometimes attack me while walking in the street, and then I used to think how horrible it would be to drop down dead all of a sudden, with no one to have a care for me. The physicians told me it was of no use to doctor for it. It was past all cure, because none of them had ever een able to cure it. But I had heard so much about Patent Medicines, as they are called, that I deter mined to try some of them. So I went to Philadel phia, and called on Mr. F. Brown, who keeps the apothecaries' shop corner of Fifth and Chesmustreets, and he gave me a box of pills. I took two boxes, according to directions but they did no good He then gave me a bottle of stuff, with a very out landish kind of name; but that had no more effect than the other. Just then I happened to hear Clickener's Sugar Conted Purgative Pfils, and they were 'something new under the sun," I thought I would try thom, and if I got no better, why I must give it up as a bad job. So I called on you us you may recollect, and bought a box for 25 cents. I begin taking them, and before I had half finished the bex. I telt like a different person. I could walk much far-ther, and sometimes a half mileand back, without feeling any pain. The second box had a still beto effect, and before I had got through with the third the complaint had entirely lett me. I am certain is all owing to the virtues of Clickener's Pills, and nothing else, and I wish that every body should know it, because I think they are one of the greatest blessings on earth. I always keep them in the house case any one of the family should get wick; for I know if they could cure me of so bad a complaint, they will cure almost any body cise. If you want to print this in your pampulet. I have so objection in the world, though I am not much used to writing.

TVarious Medical Practitioners of eminence have used them with successful results. Many persons also have recourse to them as an ordinary Pam-TIMIS COMPANY has just closed its third year's Hy Medicine, or corrective of the bowels, in cases of operations, and published its THERD ANNUAL slight indigestions &c. is sixty feet by thirty eix. It has two wings, cach thirty-eight feet by twenty two, extending at right angels from the main edifice, and projecting from each extensity of it by nearly the whole wielfly of each wing. In elevation it embraces four stories, including the basement, and the wings three, and is mounted by a tower or observatory, commanding an extensive and beautiful prospect. In the base-ment are the dining room and store rooms, and in the story above the basement, are the parlor, sitting room and dinary. In the other stories are the family apartments of the Principal and his assistants, and apartments of the Principal and his assistants, and two rooms set apart for the Pupils in case of sickness. In the basement of one wing are the kitchen and wash-room, and that of the other is set apart for instruction in mechanical trades. On the principal floor of the wings, are the sitting-rooms of the inales and females, and the upper story is occupied for domitories. The shief merit, of the arrangement consists in its preserving these two departments, as far as relates to the accommodations, amusements and pursuits of the Pupils out of school, so independent in every particular, as to constitute of them two deat in every particular, as to constitute of them two separate and distinct communities, while the dining-room in which both assemble, with the Teachers and family of the Principal, is conveniently accessible. The Grack oberg Pills are inconceivably superior to any ever before discovered. In all billoan com-plaints; in general derangement of the system; in all disorders which result from a bad state of the blood, these pills are a sovereign remedy. In the classes of diseases called chronic, the Great f enberg Pills achieve their highest triumphs. Here they defy all competition. Entering within the hidden recesses of the system, they quietly but surely purify the blood, root out disease, and give tone and vigor to the body. CURES ARE CONSTANTLY EF-

FECTED by these Pills, in cases where every other means had utterly failed The most abundant proof of this could be given; but a trial of one box will convince
