Luncaster, Feb. 17th, 1845,

I cannot express the obligation I am under to you for recommending me to try Clickener's Sugar Conted Purgative Pilk. You know I had be a long afflicted by a complaint of the hearf, which I befieve the Joctors call Angina Pectoris, or something of the sort. Every one told me it was a very dan-gerous disease, which night carry me off at any moment, and very suddenly, if I did not find some-thing to care it. I used to be troubled with sudden comming or pains at the pit of the stomach. Now and then it would strike up through the breast and into the shoulder blides. I never knew when it was coming on. It would sometimes attack one while walking in the street, and then I used o think how horrible it would be to drop down dead all of a sudden, with no ene to have a care for me. The physicians teld me it was of no us to doctor for it. It was past all cure, b cause none of them had ever been able to cure it. But I had be ord so much about Patent Medicines, as they are called, that I deter-nined to try some of them. So I went to Philadel-phia, and called on Mr. F. Brown, who keeps the apothecaties' shop corner of Pitth and Chesuatstreets, and he gave me a box of ails I took two boxes, according to directions, but they did no good. He then gaveme a bottle of stuff, with a very outlandish kind of name; but that had no more that than the other. Just then I happened to hear of anyland. lickener's Sugar Coated Purgative Pills, and as hey were something new under the sun," I hought ther, and sometimes a half mile and back, without feeling any pain. The second box had a still better effect, and before I had got I trough with the third. the complaint had entirely left me. I am certain it is all owing to the virtues of Clickener's Pills, and nothing else, and I wish that every body should know it, because I think they are one of the greatest blessings on earth. I always keep them in the house in case any one of the family should get sick; for I know if they could care me of so bad a complaint, they will cure almost any body else. If you want to print this in your pamphlet I have to objection in the world, though I am not much us d to writing. Yours, in all thankfulness,
