Circular Instructions to Collectors and other Officers of the Customs.
TREASURY DEPARTMENT, July 15, 1849.
In view of so much of the first section of the Warehousing act of the 6th August, 1846, as refers to the disposition of unclaimed goods, and of the provisions of the 5th section of the act of 3d March 1849, requiring all moneys receivable from customs, &c. to be paid immediately into the Treasury without abatement or reduction, and in modification of the circular No. 3, dated 23d of March, 1849, Collectors and other officers of the Customs are hereby instructed:

1st. That the provisions of the 56th section of the General Collection act of 24 of March, 1799, being unchanged and still in force, unclaimed goods, wares and merchandise cannot be allowed to remain in public store beyond the period of nine months from the date of their storage, but must after the expiration of that period be sold to realize the duties and proper charges, in the mode prescribed by law, and existing instructions of the Department.
2d. In pursuance of the provisions of the 5th section of the act of 3d March, 1849, before referred to, as well as the provisions of the tariff act of 30th July, 1846; and the warehouse act of 6th August, 1846, the duties on all goods, wares and merchandise, entered and deposited in public warehouse under bond, must be paid within one year from the date of such warehouse entry. Where the duties shall not have been paid within the period mentioned, any such goods, wares and merchandise must be sold to realize the duties and appropriate charges in conformity with law and the instructions of the Department.
3d. Any goods, wares and merchandise, duly warehoused, upon which the duties shall have been paid within the prescribed period may remain in public store, and thus retain the right to exportation with benefit of the drawback of the import duties on such goods, wares and merchandise, when re-exported at any time within two years from the date of entry for warehousing, subject to the deduction from the drawback required to be retained for the use of the United States, by the 15th section of the Tariff act of 30th August, 1842, and also to the payment of the appropriate expenses. Any goods of the description before mentioned, may be transported under warehouse regulations, and be re-warehoused at any other warehouse port, and retain the right to drawback upon due exportation therefrom at any time within two years from the date of the original warehouse entry at the port of arrival.
4th. The storage on goods, wares and merchandise in warehouse will be required to be paid monthly, and if not so paid promptly, then all such goods must be subjected to increased rates from storage, equal to one half of the former rates for the time they may subsequently remain in public store.

W. M. MERRITT,

NORTH CAROLINA VINE DRESSER AND HORTICULTURAL MODEL PRACTICAL SCHOOL.
"Construe the times to their necessities."
"To pride that punts the country down."
THE undersigned principal of said School is now ready to receive applications on papers, over 11 years old, attended with or without a slave, to learn practically all the manipulations of the Vineyard, the orchard, and horticulture in general.
The pupils will be taught to handle all the practical and scientific details of grape and fruit raising, and the art of making wine, and of taking care of it at all periods of ripening, that of drying and preserving, out of season, the fresh fruit for the table; use the knowledge of soils and localities most advantageous to each plant; chemistry applied to agriculture in general, and especially to the preparation and composition of the proper manures best suited to each kind of soil and production.
They will learn also, during leisure periods, the common branches of an English education as well as the French and Italian languages, in which the best teachers on these subjects, are to be found. A geological and mineralogical cabinet will be formed by the pupils, by bringing specimens from their respective districts, which will become a subject of study and of practical knowledge and interest to the pupils. They shall keep a meteorological journal to habituate them to observe the effects of the vicissitudes of the Atmosphere on vegetation.
The principal has an extensive library for the use of the pupils.
When twenty pupils will be permanently secured for the space of three years, which is the time necessary to acquire this business, I shall make the necessary preparations for their reception on the 1st of January 1850. It is desirable that early applications should be made to enable the principal to make ample preparations for the accommodation of the pupils.
TERMS per year, payable quarterly in advance.
1. To the pupil's board and washing $170.
2. To tuition of the pupil bringing a slave for all the above branches, and for the privilege of taking home, on the expiration of the 3d. Scholastic year, a stack of rooted vines and to be raised by the pupil himself $100.
3d. The pupil, that has no slave at the School shall pay for the above tuition &c. $150.

PROSPECTUS OF THE AURORA.
WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA.
"Nullius in additis jurare in verba mæstris,
Quo me cunque rapit tempestas, deferat hospes"
THE subscriber designs to commence about the 1st of November next, in the town of Wilmington, North Carolina, the publication of a SEMI-WEEKLY Newspaper, to be called the AURORA.
His aim is to create a paper worthy of the growing fortunes of that enterprising community. The plan differs materially from that of any now published in the State. First—It will be more literary in its character. Secondly—Owing to its allgiance to any party or set of politicians, its political discussions will be impartial and candid. The subscriber ventures to presume that his political opinions are sufficiently known to render any declaration of this nature unnecessary. Having advocated the election of General Taylor, the President, he is disposed to give to his administration a fair trial, commending when he can, but censuring when he must.
The commercial department of the Aurora will be attended to by some gentleman more competent in that line than the subscriber.
The Aurora will be printed with a press and type entirely new, and in the neatest manner. Its size will be about that of the Daily New York Herald.
Terms: Four dollars a year, or two dollars for six months. Superintendents will be due one month after the issue of the first number.
Postmasters sending eight subscribers, whose responsibility we will guarantee, will receive the Aurora 1 year gratis.
All communications should be addressed to the subscriber at Postoffice Post Office, Pitt county, N. Carolina, until the first of October next: after that date at Wilmington. HENRY I. TOOLE.
May 26, 1849. 53-61.

THOSE who have read Mr. Potter's Challenge for a Race, with the Pilot Boat ANN E. BERRY, would naturally suppose the boat which proposes to sail against her was nearly the same size and capacity; but on the contrary, his boat, the E. B. POTTER, is nearly One Tonn, while the tonnage of the ANN E. BERRY is but Forty Nine Tons, giving Mr. Potter's boat an advantage of Twenty Two Tons. With this advantage, the large boat ought to beat ninety-nine times out of one hundred, though not so good a model. I will take either of Mr. Potter's bets, and sail my boat against his, according to the rules of boat racing in New York. I would name Smithville as the starting point. Those who wish to see the point which shall be agreed upon and back to Smithville.
E. W. BERRY.
