

Azzie Wagner's Social Whirl

If there was a trace of doubt in anyone's mind as to where the most socially elite and debonaire souls of the societal echelon could be found, in all probability it would have taken Sherlock Holmes and all of The Yard to find Winston-Salem's Jet Set bunch tucked quietly and neatly away in the regal splendor of the Hyatt Regency Ballroom last Friday evening enjoying the finer things of a "Carefree Life". To add that aura of "charisma plus" was Dr. Fred Tanner and his Ebony Music Company playing the hottest and meanest jazz around! Hundreds of gleaming socialites nibbled luscious hors d'ouvres and enjoyed tantalizingly delicious mixed drinks were such socialites as Danetta Fitts, Melvin Mauney and Debra Westrick; The Walter P. Adamases, The George Hills, The Sterling Spainhours and The Andrew Hanses. Also, the Joe Penningtons were there as were the Robert Phillips, The Games Tillerys and mistresses Diane Autry, Denise Webb, Elaine Gray, Mary Thompson, Evelyn Penn, Judy Redd, Sandra Thomas, and of course Idella Jones, Lucy Cook, and that lovable "pinkie" Bradley. Putting a touch of charm and as much class were dazzling socialites Dorothy Graham, Frank Thomas and guest Cassandra Smith, The Lovable "Honey" Friende and guest Cedrick Rodney, J.P. Beatty, Kenneth Howell, Clinton Willock, and of course the suave W.W. Phillips. In all the charm and warmth of a glowing personality came the congenial Doris Gay, Andrea Garner, Barb and Roland Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Enzo Funches, Ms. Beverly Williams, and Smitherman, The De Shores, Alma Cain, Kaye Mumford, Carol McDowell, Carl Ten. Leroy Cooper, Milton Wright, Herbert and Barbara Dula, Emoree Broadway, Gwen Dixon, Dennis Bradley, Oretta Mitchell, Vickie Glenn, Mark Moss, Jenetta Porter, Albert Porter, Teresa Stinson, and Eli Bradley. Shimmering with poise and charm were socialites Nadyne Howard, Brenda Peay, Bronica Jones, Robert and Delores Phillips, Evelyn Rice, Popatra Solomon, Lelia Gill, Anneice Pearson, The Tyrone Keys, Verlee Fowler, Patricia Wilson, The Calvin Simmonses, Mona Landingham, Marty Penn and Sandra Tobias, Ms. Beverly Williams and Bernell Jones, The Charles Cardwells The charming Mrs. Joan Cardwell (this year's chairperson.). The U. Wilsons, The Ed Joyners, Dazzling Shirley Penn and charming daughter Kim were there as were, Mrs. Worth Wiser, The Stephen Blackburns, Miss Pamela Hauser, The Woodburns and daughter Michelle, Miss Linda McKenzie, D. Hart, Brenda Culp, and Bruce Lindsay. So you see I told all the socialites Plus More and the handsome Hermon who could be found last evening "under" the Hyatt House in the regal splendor of the Regency Ballroom.

Bon-Voyage -- To Europe

and Mrs. Donald Cummings of the United States Air Force were recently give the royal red carpet treatment at a Voyage Party before their departure for a 3 year stint in Europe! The David Fair of the Colonial Greenhouse Apartments was the host and hostess. Over 45 guests and friends were invited and of course everything got on down to the serious business of having a great time and partying. The menu for the occasion consisted of miniature pigs in blankets, drummettes, finger sandwiches, punch, mints, nuts, and an assortment of one's favorite beverages. A gala tieme was enjoyed by all.

Cocktail Chit-Chat

and Mrs. Sean Redding of the Woods Apartments hosted an individual cocktail party for a few close friends and relatives. Karen and Sean were the perfect host and hostess as they buzzed about making sure that everything was in tip top shape. Guests enjoyed Sean's brother Karl's expertise as a bartender while they nibbled on open-faced assorted sandwiches, stuffed celery stalks, cheese straws, bob-bons, cookies, "doughnut holes", and chicken liver munchins. A most enjoyable time was enjoyed by all. Over 50 guests were present.

Holt-McReynolds -- A Promise To Unite

Susan Elaine Holt of Winston-Salem, Kinnanom Road and Wayne McReynolds of Old Vineyard Road have announced plans to become a union November 26, in Highland Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Charles Holt of Hawthorne Road are the bride's parents. She is employed by RJR Industries Inc. Wayne McReynolds is a graduate of East Tennessee State University and an instructor in the local school system at Paisley High. Mrs. McReynolds of Charlotte are his parents. A reception ceremony will be held at the home of the bride's parents.

Altavista Club Has Full Week

It was a full week of activities for one of Winston-Salem's oldest black organizations, the Altavista Garden Club, a senior citizen's group who have been presenting flower arrangements for deceased friends and relatives and hosting social gatherings for more than 30 years.

Five club members started the week with an enjoyable evening at the Little Theater watching a production of Witness for the Prosecution. The members were Mrs. Janie Thomas, president, Mrs. Louise King, vice president, Mrs. Marian Wallace, secretary, Mrs. Estelle Cropps and Mrs. Maggie Rucker.

Two days later the club held a fall flower meeting at the home of Mrs. Juanita Penn, of 2222 New Walkertown Road. The report of the fall flowers was sent in by Mrs. Martel Little who could not attend the meeting. The report, read by Mrs. King included the daffodil, crocus, and tulip. A dried flower arrangement was presented by Mrs. Beulah Hickerson. A delicious luncheon was served with Mrs. King and Mrs. Penn as co-hostess for the affair.

Capping an eventful week, Mrs. Janie Thomas was awarded a trophy for being a charter member of the Ladies Progressive Club of Mount Zion Baptist Church and had her name engraved on the president's bowl for serving as the group's president for two terms.
